About Responsive Inspections

A responsive inspection, performed by an RHRA inspector, is a physical inspection of a licensed retirement home. A responsive inspection is conducted when RHRA receives information that the licensee may have failed to meet the standards of the Retirement Homes Act, 2010 or its regulations (the “RHA”). An inspection being conducted does not infer that an allegation is substantiated or that a contravention of the RHA has occurred. A licensee is required to report to RHRA if they suspect harm or risk of harm to a resident. During a responsive inspection, an RHRA inspector may observe the operations of the home, interview relevant individuals, review records and other documentation, and determine whether the licensee’s management and staff have followed mandatory policies and practices designed to protect the welfare of residents.

Following a responsive inspection, the RHRA inspector prepares a draft inspection report which is sent to the licensee. The draft report may include instances where the licensee has failed to meet the standards of the RHA. If included, the licensee can respond to these instances and is strongly encouraged to inform RHRA of its plans to meet the standards of the RHA.

Following the draft report, the RHRA inspector prepares this final inspection report, incorporating any response from the licensee with their plans to meet the standards of the RHA. The most recent final inspection report must be posted in the home in a visible and easily accessible location. All final inspection reports from the previous two years must also be made available in an easily accessible location in the home. The licensee must provide a copy of this report to the home’s Residents’ Council, if one exists.

In addition to inspection reports, RHRA may provide information to a licensee to encourage improvements of their current practices.

If there is a serious incident or the licensee repeatedly does not meet the required standards, RHRA may take further action.

Concern(s)

During a responsive inspection, an inspector will focus primarily on the concern(s) which prompted the inspection and may take various actions to determine whether the licensee is compliant with the RHA in relating to the concern(s). Any findings of non-compliance identified in relation to these concerns are listed below.

Concern #1: CON-5080-Improper or Incompetent Treatment or Care

RHRA Inspector Findings

A complaint was made to RHRA related to several concerns surrounding personal care, food, activities, laundry and staffing. In response to the complaint, the inspector interviewed residents, families and staff, observed 3 meals, reviewed residents medical files, reviewed relevant internal documentation and staff training records. The inspector confirmed that one resident was on a specialized diet, and their plan of care was not revised to identify this information. Additionally, the inspector found evidence that care services for some weekly linen changes and showering were missing. Furthermore, one resident’s plan of care was not approved by the resident or substitute decision maker. The Licensee failed to ensure that the plan of care was fully complied with and completed as required.

Outcome

The Licensee provided information indicating that corrective action was being taken, however, further action must be taken to achieve compliance with all areas outlined in the finding. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Additional Findings

During a responsive inspection, an inspector may observe areas of non-compliance that are not related to the concern(s) which prompted the inspection. In these cases, an inspector may cite the home for these contraventions at the time of this inspection. In addition, an inspector may follow-up on findings of non-compliance from previous inspections. Where the licensee is unable to demonstrate they have come into compliance or maintained compliance, an inspector may cite the home for these repeat contraventions at the time of this inspection.

Additional Finding#1: CON-5509-Employee Training

RHRA Inspector Findings

As part of the complaint inspection, the inspector reviewed employee training records. The inspector confirmed that one employee had been working in the home for approximately one month with no training completed. The Licensee failed to ensure all new hire employees had training completed, as required.

Outcome

The Licensee has demonstrated it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance.

Additional Finding#2: CON-5510-Infection Control*RHRA Inspector Findings

While conducting a complaint inspection, the inspector observed one employee to not be wearing a medical mask while working. The inspector provided education and the manager confirmed with the inspector that education was provided to all employees on this floor. The inspector continued to observe the employee two additional times not wearing their mask or properly wearing their mask. The Licensee did not ensure all staff complied with the Chief Medical Officer of Health's requirements.

Outcome

The Licensee has demonstrated it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance.
