About Responsive Inspections
A responsive inspection, performed by an RHRA inspector, is a physical inspection of a licensed retirement home. A responsive inspection is conducted when RHRA receives information that the licensee may have failed to meet the standards of the Retirement Homes Act, 2010 or its regulations (the “RHA”). An inspection being conducted does not infer that an allegation is substantiated or that a contravention of the RHA has occurred. A licensee is required to report to RHRA if they suspect harm or risk of harm to a resident. During a responsive inspection, an RHRA inspector may observe the operations of the home, interview relevant individuals, review records and other documentation, and determine whether the licensee’s management and staff have followed mandatory policies and practices designed to protect the welfare of residents. Following a responsive inspection, the RHRA inspector prepares a draft inspection report which is sent to the licensee. The draft report may include instances where the licensee has failed to meet the standards of the RHA. If included, the licensee can respond to these instances and is strongly encouraged to inform RHRA of its plans to meet the standards of the RHA. Following the draft report, the RHRA inspector prepares this final inspection report, incorporating any response from the licensee with their plans to meet the standards of the RHA. The most recent final inspection report must be posted in the home in a visible and easily accessible location. All final inspection reports from the previous two years must also be made available in an easily accessible location in the home. The licensee must provide a copy of this report to the home’s Residents’ Council, if one exists. In addition to inspection reports, RHRA may provide information to a licensee to encourage improvements of their current practices. If there is a serious incident or the licensee repeatedly does not meet the required standards, RHRA may take further action.

Concern(s)

During a responsive inspection, an inspector will focus primarily on the concern(s) which prompted the inspection and may take various actions to determine whether the licensee is compliant with the RHA in

Concern #1: CON-6587- NeglectRHRA Inspector Findings

A report was made to RHRA regarding the alleged neglect of a resident. As part of the inspection in response to the allegation, the inspector reviewed policies and procedures, staff training documents, the resident's care file, and interviewed relevant staff. The evidence indicated that glucose monitoring being conducted by staff showed a resident's glucose levels reached near or above measurable limits for a two-day period and that the resident exhibited some symptoms associated with high blood glucose levels. There was no evidence to show the condition was addressed as required by the Licensee's training and procedures. The resident went on to leave the home unattended during the evening in advance of his scheduled departure date, was found unconscious on the following day, and was hospitalized. The inspector found that the Licensee had failed to ensure staff followed the home's procedures and no action was taken to address the resident's condition. As a result, the Licensee's inactions jeopardized the health and safety of the resident, and the Licensee failed to protect the resident from neglect. Further, there was no evidence to show the Licensee's policy to address abuse and neglect had been implemented as required. In addition, the Licensee failed to ensure the matter was reported to the Registrar.

Outcome

The Licensee submitted a plan to achieve compliance by October 20, 2023. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Concern #2: CON-6588-Improper or Incompetent Treatment or Care - Plan of care assessmentsRHRA Inspector Findings

A report was made to RHRA regarding the care of a resident. As part of the inspection in response to the report, the inspector reviewed records relating to the resident and spoke to relevant staff. The evidence showed the resident had not been assessed and an initial plan of care had not been developed. The Licensee failed to ensure the assessment and plan of care requirements had been fully met.

Outcome

The Licensee has advised it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Additional Findings

During a responsive inspection, an inspector may observe areas of non-compliance that are not related to the concern(s) which prompted the inspection. In these cases, an inspector may cite the home for these contraventions at the time of this inspection. In addition, an inspector may follow-up on findings of non-compliance from previous inspections. Where the licensee is unable to demonstrate they have come into compliance or maintained compliance, an inspector may cite the home for these repeat contraventions at the time of this inspection.
