About Responsive Inspections

A responsive inspection, performed by an RHRA inspector, is a physical inspection of a licensed retirement home. A responsive inspection is conducted when RHRA receives information that the licensee may have failed to meet the standards of the Retirement Homes Act, 2010 or its regulations (the “RHA”). An inspection being conducted does not infer that an allegation is substantiated or that a contravention of the RHA has occurred. A licensee is required to report to RHRA if they suspect harm or risk of harm to a resident. During a responsive inspection, an RHRA inspector may observe the operations of the home, interview relevant individuals, review records and other documentation, and determine whether the licensee’s management and staff have followed mandatory policies and practices designed to protect the welfare of residents.

Following a responsive inspection, the RHRA inspector prepares a draft inspection report which is sent to the licensee. The draft report may include instances where the licensee has failed to meet the standards of the RHA. If included, the licensee can respond to these instances and is strongly encouraged to inform RHRA of its plans to meet the standards of the RHA.

Following the draft report, the RHRA inspector prepares this final inspection report, incorporating any response from the licensee with their plans to meet the standards of the RHA. The most recent final inspection report must be posted in the home in a visible and easily accessible location. All final inspection reports from the previous two years must also be made available in an easily accessible location in the home. The licensee must provide a copy of this report to the home’s Residents’ Council, if one exists.

In addition to inspection reports, RHRA may provide information to a licensee to encourage improvements of their current practices.

If there is a serious incident or the licensee repeatedly does not meet the required standards, RHRA may take further action.

Concern(s)

During a responsive inspection, an inspector will focus primarily on the concern(s) which prompted the inspection and may take various actions to determine whether the licensee is compliant with the RHA in relating to the concern(s). Any findings of non-

Concern #1: CON-6433-Improper or Incompetent Treatment or Care - Falls

RHRA Inspector Findings

The RHRA received an anonymous report of incompetent care surrounding resident falls. Although many of the allegations were unfounded, the inspector’s review of documentation revealed that not all staff had received training on all relevant care services. This is an area cited previously during a routine inspection conducted April 4, 2023. The Licensee failed to ensure all relevant staff were trained on the care services they provided at the home.

Outcome

The Licensee submitted a plan to achieve compliance by October 31, 2023. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Additional Findings

During a responsive inspection, an inspector may observe areas of non-compliance that are not related to the concern(s) which prompted the inspection. In these cases, an inspector may cite the home for these contraventions at the time of this inspection. In addition, an inspector may follow-up on findings of non-compliance from previous inspections. Where the licensee is unable to demonstrate they have come into compliance or maintained compliance, an inspector may cite the home for these repeat contraventions at the time of this inspection.

Additional Finding#1: CON-6579-Emergency PlanningRHRA Inspector Findings

The inspector reviewed previous areas of non-compliance cited during a routine inspection conducted April 4, 2023, and discovered the home had failed to complete a full evacuation of the home or test the resources and supplies required during an emergency in the home. The Licensee failed to address previously cited areas of non-compliance.

Outcome

The Licensee submitted a plan to achieve compliance by October 19, 2023. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Additional Finding#2: CON-6580-AbuseRHRA Inspector Findings

During the course of an inspection, the inspector discovered that two incidents of suspected emotional abuse by a staff member to a resident had been reported to the home. The home failed to follow their zero tolerance of abuse policy and begin an immediate investigation in accordance with their policy, nor did they notify the RHRA. The Licensee failed to follow their zero tolerance of abuse policy in response to an allegation of emotional abuse.

Outcome

The Licensee has advised it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.
