About Responsive Inspections

A responsive inspection, performed by an RHRA inspector, is a physical inspection of a licensed retirement home. A responsive inspection is conducted when RHRA receives information that the licensee may have failed to meet the standards of the Retirement Homes Act, 2010 or its regulations (the “RHA”). An inspection being conducted does not infer that an allegation is substantiated or that a contravention of the RHA has occurred. A licensee is required to report to RHRA if they suspect harm or risk of harm to a resident. During a responsive inspection, an RHRA inspector may observe the operations of the home, interview relevant individuals, review records and other documentation, and determine whether the licensee’s management and staff have followed mandatory policies and practices designed to protect the welfare of residents.

Following a responsive inspection, the RHRA inspector prepares a draft inspection report which is sent to the licensee. The draft report may include instances where the licensee has failed to meet the standards of the RHA. If included, the licensee can respond to these instances and is strongly encouraged to inform RHRA of its plans to meet the standards of the RHA.

Following the draft report, the RHRA inspector prepares this final inspection report, incorporating any response from the licensee with their plans to meet the standards of the RHA. The most recent final inspection report must be posted in the home in a visible and easily accessible location. All final inspection reports from the previous two years must also be made available in an easily accessible location in the home. The licensee must provide a copy of this report to the home’s Residents’ Council, if one exists.

In addition to inspection reports, RHRA may provide information to a licensee to encourage improvements of their current practices.

If there is a serious incident or the licensee repeatedly does not meet the required standards, RHRA may take further action.

Concern(s)

During a responsive inspection, an inspector will focus primarily on the concern(s) which prompted the inspection and may take various actions to determine whether the licensee is compliant with the RHA in relating to the concern(s). Any findings of non-compliance identified in relation to these concerns are listed below.

Concern #1: CON-8250-Medication Administration

RHRA Inspector Findings

An allegation was reported to the RHRA indicating a resident had repeatedly run out of pain medication, had incidents of not being administered medications, and improper medication management procedures were occurring. As part of the inspection in response to the allegation, the inspector reviewed the Licensee's care policies and procedures, staff training records, the resident's care file, and interviewed relevant staff. The evidence showed the established medication management policy was not always complied with in relation to ordering medications to ensure sufficient quantities to be administered as prescribed. Further, the evidence confirmed there were three confirmed instances where drugs were documented as having been administered when they had not. The Licensee failed to ensure that the established medication management policy was followed, that drugs were administered as prescribed, and that the medication administration records were accurate.

Outcome

The Licensee has advised it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Concern #2: CON-8251-Complaints Procedure

RHRA Inspector Findings

A report was made to the RHRA in relation to complaints made to the Licensee. As part of the inspection in response to the allegation, the inspector reviewed the Licensee's complaints procedure, interviewed staff, reviewed complaint log documentation, and reviewed correspondence. The inspector found an initial complaint was not responded to within ten business days as required. The Licensee failed to ensure the complaint procedure had been fully complied with.

Outcome

The Licensee has advised it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Concern #3: CON-8253-Improper or Incompetent Treatment or Care - Plan of Care

RHRA Inspector Findings

A report was made to RHRA regarding the development of a plan of care. As part of the inspection in response to the allegation, the inspector reviewed the resident's care file and interviewed relevant staff. The inspector found that the Licensee had failed to ensure the plan of care had been reviewed and revised within six months of the previous plan of care dated May 15, 2023.

Outcome

The Licensee has advised it has taken corrective action to achieve compliance. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Additional Findings

During a responsive inspection, an inspector may observe areas of non-compliance that are not related to the concern(s) which prompted the inspection. In these cases, an inspector may cite the home for these contraventions at the time of this inspection. In addition, an inspector may follow-up on findings of non-compliance from previous inspections. Where the licensee is unable to demonstrate they have come into compliance or maintained compliance, an inspector may cite the home for these repeat contraventions at the time of this inspection.
