About Routine Inspections
A routine inspection, performed by an RHRA inspector, is a physical inspection of a licensed retirement home. During a routine inspection, an RHRA inspector will walk through the home, speak to residents and staff, observe care services and conditions in the home, and ensure the licensee's management and staff follow mandatory policies and practices designed to protect the welfare of residents. Following a routine inspection, the RHRA inspector prepares a draft inspection report which is sent to the licensee. The draft report may include instances where the licensee has failed to meet the standards of the RHA. If included, the licensee can respond to these instances and is strongly encouraged to inform RHRA of its plans to meet the standards of the RHA. Following the draft report, the RHRA inspector prepares this final inspection report, incorporating any response from the licensee with their plans to meet the standards of the RHA. The most recent final inspection report must be posted in the home in a visible and easily accessible location. All final inspection reports from the previous two years must also be made available in an easily accessible location in the home. The licensee must provide a copy of this report to the home's Residents' Council, if one exists. In addition to inspection reports, RHRA may provide information to a licensee to encourage improvements of their current practices. If the licensee repeatedly does not meet the required standards, RHRA may take further action.

Focus Areas
During a routine inspection, an inspector will focus primarily on a set number of areas which have been identified as related to the health, safety and wellbeing of resident, and may take various actions to determine whether the licensee is compliant with the RHA in relating to the areas. The areas listed in this section are ones which an inspector has identified as non-compliant. Focus Area #1: Staff Training

RHRA Inspector Findings

As part of the routine inspection, the inspector reviewed the Licensee's staff training records. The review illuminated that some experienced employees had not been annually retrained in the home's complaints procedures and the residents' bill of rights. Additionally, one recently hired employee had not completed new hire mandatory training in zero tolerance of abuse and neglect policy, resident bill of rights, and some role specific duties. The Licensee failed to meet all training requirements for new and experienced staff.

Outcome

The Licensee must take corrective action to achieve compliance.

Additional Findings

During a routine inspection, an inspector may observe areas of non-compliance that are not related to the standard focus areas. In these cases, an inspector may cite the home for these contraventions at the time of this inspection. In addition, an inspector may follow-up on findings of non-compliance from previous inspections. Where the licensee is unable to demonstrate they have come into compliance or maintained compliance, an inspector may cite the home for these repeat contraventions at the time of this inspection.

Additional Finding#1: Food Preparation and ProvisionRHRA Inspector Findings

During a routine inspection, the Licensee's meal provision was reviewed. The inspector determined that not all residents were being offered two snacks and a beverage. The Licensee did not meet the prescribed requirements of the sole meal provider.

Outcome

The Licensee must take corrective action to achieve compliance.
