About Responsive Inspections

A responsive inspection, performed by an RHRA inspector, is a physical inspection of a licensed retirement home. A responsive inspection is conducted when RHRA receives information that the licensee may have failed to meet the standards of the Retirement Homes Act, 2010 or its regulations (the “RHA”). An inspection being conducted does not imply that an allegation is substantiated or that a contravention of the RHA has occurred. A licensee is required to report to RHRA if they suspect harm or risk of harm to a resident. During a responsive inspection, an RHRA inspector may observe the operations of the home, interview relevant individuals, review records and other documentation, and determine whether the licensee’s management and staff have followed mandatory policies and practices designed to protect the welfare of residents.

Following a responsive inspection, the RHRA inspector prepares a draft inspection report which is sent to the licensee. The draft report may include instances where the licensee has failed to meet the standards of the RHA. If included, the licensee can respond to these instances and is strongly encouraged to inform RHRA of its plans to meet the standards of the RHA.

Following the draft report, the RHRA inspector prepares this final inspection report, incorporating any response from the licensee with their plans to meet the standards of the RHA. The most recent final inspection report must be posted in the home in a visible and easily accessible location. All final inspection reports from the previous two years must also be made available in an easily accessible location in the home. The licensee must provide a copy of this report to the home’s Residents’ Council, if one exists.

In addition to inspection reports, RHRA may provide information to a licensee to encourage improvements of their current practices.

If there is a serious incident or the licensee repeatedly does not meet the required standards, RHRA may take further action.

Concern(s)

During a responsive inspection, an inspector will focus primarily on the concern(s) which prompted the inspection and may take various actions to determine whether the licensee is compliant with the RHA in relation to the concern(s). Any findings of non-compliance identified in relation to these concerns are listed below.

Concern #1: CON-7384-Improper or Incompetent Treatment or Care

RHRA Inspector Findings

A report was made to the RHRA regarding the alleged incompetent or incomplete treatment or care of a resident by multiple staff members. As part of the inspection in response to the allegation, the inspector reviewed the Licensee's care policies and procedures, the resident's care file, and interviewed relevant staff and the substitute decision maker (SDM). The inspector found that the Licensee did not ensure the resident's plan of care was reviewed and updated at least every six months as required. In addition, the plan of care lacked clear direction to staff regarding the provision of meals and snacks. The inspector also confirmed that staff did not consistently follow the existing plan of care, specifically in relation to notifying the SDM in a timely manner when there was a change in the resident's health status. The Licensee failed to ensure that required processes related to the development, review, and implementation of plans of care were maintained as required.

Outcome

The Licensee submitted a plan to achieve compliance by Tuesday March 31, 2026. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Concern #2: CON-8269-Staff Training

RHRA Inspector Findings

As part of the concerns reported to the RHRA, the inspector reviewed the Licensee's records of staff training records and found that 19 care staff members had not been trained on any of the required training while several others had incomplete training. The training programs and policies that were incomplete included abuse and neglect, complaints process, fire and emergency, infection prevention and control, falls prevention, restraints and personal assisted service devices, whistle blower protection and resident bill of rights. The inspector also found that no care staff had received the required training for assistance with ambulation, bathing, dressing, feeding, personal hygiene and continence care. The Licensee failed to ensure that staff were trained at hire and annually as required.

Outcome

The Licensee submitted a plan to achieve compliance by Sunday March 15, 2026. RHRA to confirm compliance by following up with the Licensee or by inspection.

Additional Findings

During a responsive inspection, an inspector may observe areas of non-compliance that are not related to the concern(s) which prompted the inspection. In these cases, an inspector may cite the home for these contraventions at the time of this inspection. In addition, an inspector may follow-up on findings of non-compliance from previous inspections. Where the licensee is unable to demonstrate they have come into compliance or maintained compliance, an inspector may cite the home for these repeat contraventions at the time of this inspection.
